PRESTIGE BUSINESS // CONCEPT

Cross-media synergies

We do not harness the various possibilities that the internet and social media have to offer just any old way. Our customers will experience target-aimed presentation with us. As part of our website, new communication channels will get filled with life. This also results in individually tailored synergies between classic print and the new Web 2.0 offerings. We also offer independent online formats, such as news, photo series and online comments. Our editorial team selects topical issues from the core sections of the print editions and edits them for an online presence.

Target groups

With PRESTIGE BUSINESS, you are anchored in the entire business world of Switzerland. Our readers appreciate clear and cosmopolitan attitudes towards life. They are decision-makers in their companies and want to make a difference. PRESTIGE BUSINESS reaches Swiss managing directors, executives in enterprise companies, supervisory boards, HR and IT managers, IT purchasers and marketing managers in trade, commerce and industry, consultants, software developers, system and network administrators, manufacturers, retailers, distributors, security specialists, department heads and sales representatives, CIOs and CEOs, and scientists in business and in the university environment. Thanks to our collaborations with central professional associations and institutions (federal government, cantons, municipalities), we are also featured in waiting areas.

Collaborations with multipliers and anchor customers

We are on the ground at key trade fairs and corporate events, such as the Swiss Marketing Forum, the Forum for Swiss Foreign Trade, KMU Swiss, Swiss Online marketing, HR Festival, Business Breakfast of the FFHS, Europa Forum Luzern, Topsoft, Business Innovation Week, Swiss CRM Forum, Digital Summit, IT-SA, Swiss Lean Congress, Swiss Leadership Forum and KMU Business Circle, where we maintain our networks and get journalistic ideas.

Special prints

If customers maintain long-term cooperation with us, further communication and marketing opportunities open up in special prints, in which the customer's previous appearances are once again bundled. You are then not only represented on our innovative platform, but can also use your own communication and marketing channels with magazine quality.

In each issue, we point the way for your long-term planning with key topics. In addition, we will realise key current topics ourselves and on request.

IMPORTANT!

Please make sure that the images and fonts are embedded in the PDF. In the event of faulty files (too low a resolution, wrong colour setting, non-embedded fonts), it is not possible to make a complaint.

Due to the adhesive binding of the magazine, when laying out a full-bleed advertisement, please make sure that all important information is about 10 mm away from the outside and inside margin so that all information is still legible after the magazine has been completed.
